ABOUT DIANA

Diana Marcela Ramirez

For the past two years, Diana has been facilitating Rebirthing Breathwork on Koh Phangan, Thailand, an island internationally recognized for its wellness community. Through private and group sessions, she holds a calm, honest space where people can reconnect with their breath, release what the body has been holding, and find real presence and clarity.

"It's not about fixing you. It's about coming home to what's already there."

THE EXPERIENCE

How a session works

Every rebirthing breathwork session works with one simple tool: the breath. Guided consciously, it becomes a doorway to real rest and release.

Conscious connected breathing

An active, unbroken breath pattern that gently shifts the nervous system.

Nervous system regulation

Supporting the body's natural return to calm.

Emotional release

Space to feel and release what has been held.

Deep relaxation

A full-body rest most people rarely give themselves.

Self-awareness

Noticing patterns, sensations and emotions as they arise.

Integration

Time to settle and absorb the experience before returning to daily life.

Every session is unique. Each participant is gently held while the body and breath lead the way.

WHY HOST THIS

Why this is worth offering

A guest workshop gives your community something rare: a full afternoon to slow down, together. It also brings something genuinely new to your space.

- Reduced stress
- Deep relaxation
- Greater emotional resilience
- A supportive group environment

FOR YOUR SPACE

- Something genuinely different from what's already around you
- No preparation needed on your side, I bring everything
- A fresh addition to your calendar
- New, engaged faces introduced to your space

Simple to host, easy to schedule, and remembered long after the afternoon ends.

LET'S CONNECT

Bring this to your community

If a guest breathwork workshop feels like a fit for your space, I would love to talk. I am happy to answer questions about the format, the group size, a possible revenue-share arrangement, or anything else that would help you decide.
